

Jeffrey F. Hines, M.D.
Wellstar Health System

Dr. Hines is currently the Medical Director of Diversity, Inclusion and the Center for Health Equity for Wellstar Health System in Marietta, Georgia. He is also the Chief of the Division of Gynecologic Oncology for Wellstar Medical Group.

Jeffrey Freeman Hines is a native of New York. He attended Brown University in Providence, RI as part of the combined Seven-Year Medical Education Program. He received his undergraduate Bachelor of Science degree from Brown in Biology, magna cum laude, in May 1983. Jeffrey received his medical degree from The Warren Alpert Medical School of Brown University School of Medicine in May 1986.

Dr. Hines completed a four-year residency program in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Fitzsimons Army Medical Center, Aurora, CO from July 1986 - June 1990. In September 1990, Dr. Hines was deployed with the First Cavalry Division as a Battalion Surgeon during Operation Desert Shield and Operation Desert Storm. Dr. Hines completed a three-year fellowship in Gynecologic Oncology at Georgetown University Medical Center in June 1995.

Dr. Hines is a Diplomate of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology with special competence in Gynecologic Oncology, a Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and a Full Member of the Society of Gynecologic Oncologists. He is also a member of the American Society of Clinical Oncology, and the National Medical Association. Dr. Hines serves as a manuscript referee to several peer review medical journals to include Gynecologic Oncology, The Journal of the National Medical Association, and Obstetrics and Gynecology. Dr. Hines is critically involved in collaborative clinical oncology research. He is an institutional investigator for NRG Oncology of the National Cancer Institute.

Dr. Hines has extensive research interests, background, and is published in the field of papillomaviruses, cervical cancer vaccines, clinical cancer trials, disparities in healthcare, undergraduate student education, health equity, and racism in medicine. He has presented his work at national and international meetings. He has been an invited lecturer to national venues as well as to India and Mexico in the field of papillomaviruses. Dr. Hines also has expertise in all aspects of the treatment of women with cervical cancer, vaginal cancer, vulvar cancer, endometrial cancer, and ovarian cancer. He has expertise in the da Vinci robotic system. He is also actively involved in providing cancer health education lectures to at-risk groups.

Dr. Hines is the recipient of numerous local and national teaching awards for excellence in undergraduate and graduate medical education. He was the recipient of two awards by the Society of Gynecologic Oncologists and the Gynecologic Cancer Foundation for his research in papillomaviruses in 1994. Dr. Hines is also the recipient of the US Army Meritorious Service Medal. Dr. Hines was listed as one of Atlanta's Top Doctors in the 2005 - 2021 editions of Atlanta Magazine. In November 2005, Georgia Governor Sonny Perdue nominated Dr. Hines to serve on the Governor's Task Force for the Elimination of Cervical cancer for the State of Georgia.

Jeff's community service includes the following:

- Brown University, Corporation trustee 2015 to 2020, Corporation fellow, 2020 to present.
- Community Foundation of Greater Atlanta, Spark Giving Circle, serving the Thomasville Heights Community of Atlanta, 2017 to present.
- Breakthrough Atlanta, GA, Board of Directors, 2016 – present, chair of governance committee, 2018 – 2021.
- Hammonds House Museum of African American Art and Resource Center, Atlanta GA, trustee 2005-2007, board chair 2007-2012.
- The Lovett School, Atlanta, GA, trustee 2007-2012, board vice chair 2012-2015.
- Leadership Atlanta, Class of 2008.

Jeff enjoys collecting African-American art and running marathons.